

This has been a hectic year for the Moehrings, but we've seen God's blessings all the way through!

In January, we had fun camping out in our house while new carpet was being installed in our home in Gilbert, AZ. Unfortunately we only got to enjoy the new carpet for a couple of months.

In February, Gram and Paw Paw came to visit for Hannah's 6th birthday. The next day, Nate went to work in Toulouse, France for two weeks. On the weekends, Nate visited some pretty awesome castles, a winery, and the Lascaux II cave paintings. Oh yeah, and while in France he accepted a position with SpaceX in Hawthorne, CA! This was not even on our radar last Christmas. Becca was smart and had a garage sale while he was still away. ☺

In March, the family took a trip to Center Point, TX while Nate went on to Austin, TX where he chaired the Certified LabVIEW Architect Summit and was named a LabVIEW Champion (~65 worldwide). The Lunds came to visit us in Gilbert, we picked out a place to live in CA, and we had a nice farewell from many of our friends in AZ. Unfortunately, we had to say goodbye to our pet bunny Chewy.

In April, we settled into our new home, rewarded ourselves with a trip to Legoland, welcomed the Grigsbys as our first visitors, and started exploring the South Bay area. The kids love the swimming pool! We found a church, Gardena Valley Assembly, we liked pretty much right away and have enjoyed making new friends and building our support (and babysitting) network. :)

In May, Becca and the kids got plugged into some new homeschooling groups. The kids have really started to have their own set of friends. Nate has been jealous of all the fun field trips they take.

In June, Hannah graduated kindergarten, graduating class of ~2027! We also announced the coming of a new member to Moehring family, due to arrive on ~2/17/2015. We had some scares and medical concerns early on but God has really worked miracles here and both baby and mommy are doing awesome!

In July, we took a trip up to Minnesota for a family reunion. The kids loved playing with their cousins and extended family! (We did too.)

In August, we joined the ranks of Disneyland Annual Passholders. This has been a lot of fun for our family, well worth every penny. It also helps with schoolwork motivation on slow days. ;) Our old friends- Lacey Ward and the Keils- even came to share in the fun!

In October, Nate finally had a chance to complete the Tough Mudder. Next challenge, surviving another baby, eek! Possibly, another Tough Mudder or Spartan race next year. At a Halloween party, we discovered that Hannah and Ben are just as cute as cartoons. ☺

In November, Benjamin turned 5 with a LEGO Ninjago birthday party, hiyah! We were very happy to have Gram and Paw Paw join us. We also made a trip back to AZ for Thanksgiving. H&B had a blast playing with old friends.

This Christmas, we are anticipating several visits from friends and family. Becca hopes this, along with the holidays, will help make the last months of pregnancy go by a little faster.

We think of you often and pray blessings for your 2015! We also hope you'll remember the reason for the season,

Nate, Rebecca, Hannah, Benjamin, Baby M, and Gandalf
